

Market moves that matter

—

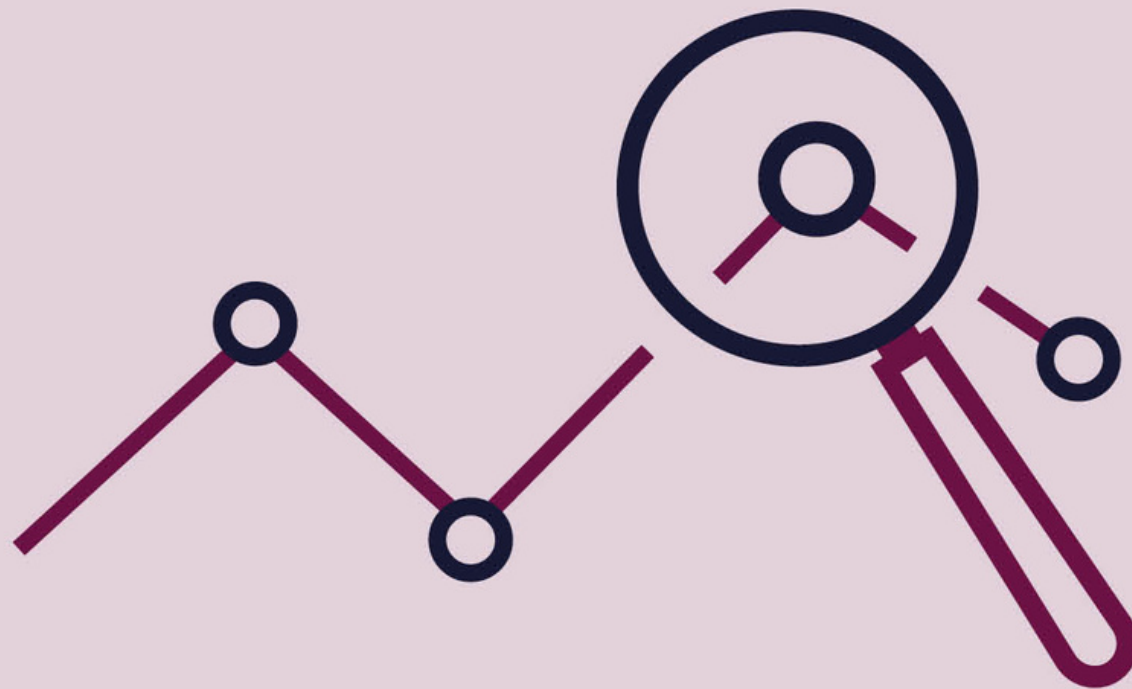

January 2023

1 Global inflation appears to be peaking at last as central banks continue to increase rates

2 The pace of global economic growth is slowing and the risks of recession are rising

3 China has begun to dismantle its zero-Covid policy, which has crippled its economy

